THE ANATOMY OF A RESEARCH

Abhinava is a doctoral student at the School of Humanities and Social Sciences, Shiv Nadar University. His research project looks at the formation of postcolonial subjectivities through an ethnographic encounter with India's rapidly changing 'Cricket Culture'.

His thesis explores local meanings, values and claims that are produced through the appropriation of the game at various national, sub-national and local contexts to account for the distinct cosmopolitan sensibility, idiom and expectation that lead to the formation of a new postcolonial cultural and social identity.

Abhinava also holds interests in postcolonial print culture, anthropology of body and anthropology of media. He has been a translator and contributor for many leading websites. Having contributed writings in Hindi for leading platforms, Abhinava calls himself a reluctant poet too.
