MESSAGE FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Dear Valued Readers,

The Department of Educational Studies is pleased to announce the release of the 5th issue of our esteemed Annual Newsletter- SOPHIA. It had been again a year filled with learning and scholarship, growth and extension, meaningful engagement and experiences, both for students and the faculty. The latest edition of Sophia is purported to share this academic journey round the year. SOPHIA brings out noteworthy intellectual advancements, active community involvement, and academic accomplishments of the DES. It being the department's newsletter, SOPHIA is a testament of the scope and depth of its collective endeavors. It serves a forum for exchanging ideas, viewpoints, and experiences that influence your comprehension of educational studies in addition to showcasing the Department's dynamic accomplishments such as seminars, workshops, conferences, research publications, outreach, achievements and so on. The articles and reflections that follow highlight the Department's dedication to developing inclusive and equitable learning environments, encouraging critical thinking, and fostering reflective practices and values among all stakeholders.

We are proud of the strides and progression we have made in our academics and beyond. Our cognizance and comprehension of education's revolutionary prospects have been formed by the opportunities we have accepted, widely ranging from research projects and extension that tackle urgent educational issues to hands-on experiences that connects theory and practice. Our success this year has also been credited to our concerted efforts. For the benefit of our academic programs as well as the greater community involvement, we have developed enriching dialogues and exchanges by establishing stronger relationships with local schools, colleges, universities, community organizations and industry leaders.

Looking forward, we are eager to fruitfully utilise the opportunities that lie ahead. Our dedication to promoting innovation, equity and academic excellence in all facets of our work remains constant as we move through the dynamic landscape of education. Together we are committed to reshaping education and preparing ourselves for success in a rapidly evolving world.

We express our unfeigned gratitude to all who have contributed to the successful launch of SOPHIA. The fact is that your dedication, zeal, commitment and allegiance have been incredible and invaluable.

We hope that this newsletter will continue to serve its purpose with utmost sincerity.

Best regards,
The Editorial Team

MESSAGE FROM THE VICE CHANCELLOR'S DESK

I am privileged to extend my heartfelt greetings to all concerned through the esteemed pages of this edition of annual newsletter of the Department of Educational Studies- 'SOPHIA'. The commitment and rigorous scholarly efforts of the Department of Educational Studies make me more elated to see how DES grows academically. The newsletter truly reflects the commitment of the faculty and students of the Department to achieve high standards of teaching-learning, ambitious endeavors in research projects, and community involvement. As a model of innovation in the field of education, the Department continuously cultivates an atmosphere that is supportive of the development of ideas, values, and knowledge across academic boundaries. Our students have prospered under the guidance and mentorship of our distinguished faculty, who are well-known for their knowledge, expertise, accomplishments, and dedication. They have set out an exemplary model that could shape education both in India and globally. Their dedication to excellence has enriched our students' educational experiences and established the department as a leader in influencing the trajectory of education.

The Department of Educational Studies is the strong pillar of JMI, wherein it strives to extend the university's impact beyond the campus through strong partnerships and collaboration within the university and with external stakeholders.

In the words of William Butler Yeats-

"Education is not the filling of a pail, but the lightning of a fire"

I express my sincere appreciation to each and every member of the DES in general and the editorial team in particular, for their dedication and invaluable contributions in accomplishing the university's vision and mission. I believe together we can continue to inspire, innovate and pave the way for a brighter future for this generation and generations to come. Warmest regards for all your forthcoming pursuits.

MESSAGE FROM THE DEAN'S DESK

The Department of Educational Studies at Jamia Millia Islamia has made significant contributions to the country since its establishment in the year 1980 and has remained committed to advancing the much-needed high standard of education. For this reason, it holds a distinguished place among academic institutions. Raising the boundaries of educational theory and practice is what makes it a stronghold of academic brilliance.

With great pleasure, I am extremely delighted that the department has come up with yet another edition of SOPHIA. With an eye toward the future, the Department is unwavering in its commitment- leveraging its own strengths and capabilities while tackling the evolving needs and demands of students and communities. It keeps innovating its curriculum, including cutting-edge tools and pedagogical strategies to improve learning outcomes and equip graduates to succeed in a variety of learning environments. Guided by the wisdom of the learned faculty who inspire to think beyond the ordinary and envision a future where education empowers and transforms lives. Departmental collaborations with schools, colleges, institutions, community organizations, and policy-makers has remained vital to its mission.

I express my sincere gratitude to all of you—faculty, students, staff, alumni, and well-wishers—for your invaluable contributions to the department's success as it begins yet another year of research, exploration and discovery. I would like to express my sincere gratitude and admiration to Dr. Sajjad Ahmad and his editorial team for their extraordinary efforts in bringing out yet another newsletter that showcases the academic activities of DES round the year.

Let Paulo Freire's powerful words capture our conviction that education has the capacity to alter lives and spark constructive societal change:

*“Education does not transform the world,
Education changes people, People change the world.”*

Wishing you all a great success ahead.

Warm regards,

Prof. Sara Begum

Dean, Faculty of Education, Jamia Millia Islamia

MESSAGE FROM THE HEAD'S DESK

In my capacity as the Head of the Department, I deeply owe to the dedicated efforts of the editorial team in bringing out 5th volume of SOPHIA. Our faculty members have blazed the trail through their novel researches and innovative pedagogical strategies, inducing among our students and scholars a spirit of inquiry and critical thinking. The fact is they are dedicated and leave no stone unturned in not only acquiring but also creating and sharing knowledge. In the similar vein, our students have shown remarkable performance and innovation in their pursuit of knowledge. The ethos of lifelong learning of DES and social responsibility of the faculty are reflected through their coursework, research projects, and community service initiatives. Offering a wide variety of programmes, our department is committed to provide high-quality education. From Ph.D. in Educational Studies to M.Ed., to advanced postgraduate programmes like M.A in Educational Planning and Administration, to postgraduate diploma programmes, each curriculum is constructed to provide students with the fundamental knowledge, values and skills. M.A in Early Childhood Development is the newest edition to the department. With activities aimed at enriching educational experience, our department has been vibrant and spirited throughout. The department regularly organizes seminars, conferences, workshops, orientations, and other events at national and international levels that supports scholarly discourse, professional development, and intellectual progress of professors as well as students. Furthermore, we are persistent in our dedication to community outreach, building partnerships with organizations, schools, colleges, universities, and community stakeholders to carry out programs that promote the principles of accessibility, equity, quality, affordability, and accountability. This year the Department has also seen remarkable laurels of our students as they have excelled academically, exhibited leadership and performed worthwhile community service. Likewise, our faculty members have distinguished themselves by supporting cutting-edge educational practices and conducting groundbreaking research. Finally, I would like to express my heartfelt gratitude and congratulations to Dr. Sajjad Ahmad and his entire team for their tireless work in compiling this extensive overview of the accomplishments and activities of our department. As we further our educational endeavors, your commitment to quality and excellence raises the department's profile, integrity and prominence.

I extend my heartfelt gratitude and appreciation to our non-teaching staff, whose perseverance and dedicated efforts are always commendable and praiseworthy.

Best wishes to all!

ORIENTATION OF NEW ENTRANTS

Ph.D. (Batch 2022), M.Ed., PGDEM (2 August, 2023)

The orientation programme for Ph.D. (Batch 2022), M.Ed., and PGDEM students commenced on 2nd August, 2023, with a welcome address from the Head of the Department, Prof. Arshad Ikram Ahmad, who provided an overview of the institution's vision and mission. The programme featured detailed presentations by Course Coordinators on each course, outlining their structure, objectives, and expectations. The Ph.D. Scholars were introduced to key faculty members, mentors, and research supervisors. The session covered academic resources such as libraries and online databases, as well as student support services like counseling and career advising. Administrative information on registration, course selection, and institutional policies was also provided. The Q&A session allowed students to address their queries, while informal networking facilitated interaction with peers, faculty, and staff. The orientation concluded with closing remarks, offering motivational insights and encouragement for a successful academic journey.

MAEPA (2023-25 Batch)

On 31st August, 2023 the orientation programme for students enrolled in the newly introduced MAEPA course was conducted to provide a comprehensive introduction to the course's structure and requirements. The session began with a thorough overview of the MAEPA curriculum, highlighting its innovative features and educational objectives. The primary purpose of the orientation was to offer students a clear understanding of both academic and administrative expectations, thereby preparing them for the academic rigor of the course. Activities included detailed presentations on course content, interactive breakout sessions with faculty to discuss research interests, and workshops focused on effectively utilizing new academic tools and resources. The programme was organized to establish a solid foundation for students, foster engagement with their peers and faculty, and facilitate a seamless transition into their academic pursuits.

ORIENTATION OF Ph.D. BATCH, 2024 (24 APRIL, 2024)

On April 24, 2024, the orientation programme for Ph.D. Batch 2023 was held to introduce new doctoral students to their academic environment. The event provided a thorough overview of the Ph.D. course, focusing on its structure, key milestones, and research opportunities. The primary purpose of the orientation was to familiarize students with the academic and administrative aspects of their studies. The programme included detailed briefings on the dissertation process, workshops on effective research methodologies, and sessions on institutional resources and support services. Additionally, there were interactive discussions with faculty advisors and networking opportunities with fellow researchers. These activities aimed to ensure that students were well-prepared for the challenges of their doctoral research and to facilitate a smooth transition into their academic roles.

Research Proposal Presentation by M.Ed., M.A. EPA, M.A. ECD 3rd Semester, and PGDEM First-Year Students

Date: 20 Nov. 2024 - 24 Nov. 2024

One of the crucial activity of the department is research proposals of students from various programs, including M.Ed., M.A. in Educational Planning and Administration (EPA), M.A. in Early Childhood Development (ECD), and the Post Graduate Diploma in Educational Management (PGDEM). This event marked a pivotal moment in the academic journey of these students, providing them with a platform to present their research ideas and receive valuable feedback from faculty and peers. The research proposal presentation was held over five days. The event aimed to foster a collaborative environment where students could refine their research questions, methodologies, and theoretical frameworks. This event not only celebrated the hard work and dedication of the students but also reinforced the department's commitment to fostering a vibrant research culture.

STUDENTS' RESEARCH PAPER PRESENTATION

Students from the Department of Educational Studies present their research at conferences, seminars, and workshops, to contribute to the body of knowledge within their field as well as gain feedback. These presentations enhance their research skills, communication abilities, and professional development, while providing valuable networking opportunities and fostering confidence for future academic and career pursuits.

THEORY-PRACTICE CONNECT

The Theory-Practice Connect, administered by the Department of Educational Studies, and coordinated by Dr. Mohd. Jawaid Hussain, methodically intertwines theoretical knowledge with practical application through a series of organized internships, field placements, and experiential workshops. These meticulously designed activities enable students to translate theoretical concepts into real-world scenarios, effectively bridging the divide between academic instruction and professional practice. This integration not only enhances students' overall competence but also significantly augments their preparedness for careers within the educational sector.

NATIONAL EDUCATIONAL RESEARCH QUIZ CHAMPIONSHIP - 2024

The National Educational Research Championship-2024, a mega quiz contest, organized by the Department of Educational Studies at Jamia Millia Islamia (JMI), promises to be a groundbreaking event in the realm of academic research and innovation. Held on April 25th, 2024, this esteemed championship convened a broad array of participants, including students and research scholars from numerous universities and departments throughout the nation. Twelve university teams from across the nation registered for the quiz, while seven were able to participate in the national event. Prof. Arshad Ikram Ahmad, Head of the Department, inaugurated the event with his blessings. Prof. Kaushal Kishore, serving as the Chief Organizing Secretary, conducted the proceedings.

Dr. Sameer Babu M and Dr. Ali Haider, as Organizing Secretaries, also contributed to the successful execution of the event. The presence of esteemed faculty members, including Prof. Aeجاز Masih, Prof. Anita Rastogi, and Prof. Harjeet Kaur Bhatia, along with Dr. Quazi Ferdoushi Islam, Dr. Sarita Kumari, Dr. Afaq Nadeem Khan, Dr. Musa Ali, Dr. Jawaid Hussain, and Dr. Zeba Tabassum from the department, provided encouragement and motivation to all participants. The event encompassed various rounds such as Rapid--Fire Round, Double Trouble Round, Memory Mega, Pass the Bell, Choose your Sample, Statistical Reasoning and Match the frame, Reference Fixing, Error Mapping, etc. The team from the University of Kashmir clinched the title of National Educational Research Champion 2024, securing the prestigious trophy. Amity University came in second, with NIEPA securing the third place. Professor Keya Sircar, Dean of the Faculty of Dentistry, presented the trophies and awards. The event concluded with a vote of thanks delivered by Prof. Kaushal Kishore.

INTER DEPARTMENTAL COLLAGE COMPETITION

On September 14, 2023, the Department of Educational Studies at Jamia Millia Islamia hosted the vibrant Interdepartmental Collage Competition titled “Bharat Ki Chandrama Yatra.” This engaging poster competition, coordinated by Dr. Sameer Babu M. and Dr. Ali Haider, invited students from seven different departments, showcasing their creative talents through a total of 20 unique entries. The theme, inspired by the celestial journey of the moon in Indian culture, encouraged participants to explore and illustrate various cultural and historical facets of India’s lunar connection. The event not only fostered interdepartmental collaboration but also highlighted the rich artistic expressions of the students. The competition provided a dynamic platform for creative exchange and cultural reflection, underlining the Department’s commitment to promoting artistic innovation and interdisciplinary engagement within the university.

FIELD TRIPS

The Department of Educational Studies organized an enriching field trip for the MAECD students to Azim Premji School in Dineshpur, Uttarakhand, and 4 Anganwadi centers in Udham Singh Nagar. Coordinated by Dr. Zeba Tabassum and Dr. Sameer Babu M., the visit aimed to explore and understand the local educational and childcare frameworks. At Azim Premji School, participants observed innovative teaching methods and engaged in discussions about educational best practices. The visit to the Anganwadi centers provided valuable insights into Early Childhood Care and Development in rural settings. The trip not only fostered a deeper understanding of regional educational initiatives but also highlighted the collaborative efforts essential for enhancing community well-being. This hands-on experience not only allowed students to connect theoretical knowledge with real-world applications but also highlighted the essential role of community-based educational and childcare programmes, while reinforcing DES’s dedication to advancing educational and social development.

STUDENTS' ACTIVITIES

Students within the Department of Educational Studies are actively involved in co-scholastic activities such as leadership training, cultural events, and community outreach initiatives. These experiences are integral to fostering holistic development, offering practical opportunities that refine interpersonal skills and contribute to both academic growth and professional progression.
