Message from Head of the Department

Dear Students,

Welcome to the Department of Applied Sciences and Humanities! The department is dedicated to support your academic journey and personal growth.

We have many facilities like well-equipped labs, libraries, and learning resources that you can use to enhance your knowledge and skills. Make the most of your time by staying curious, asking questions, and exploring new ideas.

Learning is not just about books. It's about team work sharing knowledge, working together, and helping each other. Support your classmates, especially those who come from challenging backgrounds. A little kindness and teamwork can make a big difference.

Caring for the environment and contributing to the development of our university is part of our values.

If you face any stress or mental health issues due to studies, personal problems, or adjustment issues, please feel free to talk to your mentors assigned to you, any faculty member you trust, or the head of the department. We are here to support you.

Remember, ragging is strictly prohibited and can lead to the cancellation of your admission. Always respect everyone, regardless of gender, and create a safe, supportive environment for all.

Best wishes

Mohd Mudassir Husain
Professor and Head
